

---

F O R E W O R D

---

Introduction

This special issue covers important and controversial topics in radiology.

Each topic addressed presents important viewpoints from leading radiologists.

High-quality reproductions of radiographs, CT scans, MR images, and sonograms clearly depict what is being described in each article.

This articles offer an outstanding, time-saving investigation into some current topics most relevant to radiologists.

Prof. Massimo De Filippo
University of Parma