Welcome to Epidemiology in Occupational Health (EPICOH) 2010.

We are grateful to have the honor of hosting 21st EPICOH in Taipei, Taiwan on 22-24 April 2010.

During the last several decades, Taiwan has been quickly industrialized and occupational safety and health has become one of the priorities of our people. Taiwan is located in western Pacific region connecting Japan, Korea, China and other countries in southeastern Asia, where most countries are newly industrialized and occupational injuries and diseases are rampant, and people are in need of knowledge and technology in this field for proactive prevention and control. So far, we have more than 10 graduate and 7 undergraduate departments that major in occupational and environmental health. The faculty and students of the Institute of Occupational Medicine and Industrial Hygiene in the College of Public Health of National Taiwan University will undertake the congress.

From one of the world's tallest buildings to the biggest collection of Chinese art, Taipei invites you into a world of fascinating contrasts

- a mix of the modern and traditional with a generous dash of energy and friendly smiles. Taipei has dozens of world-class restaurants where gourmands can sample the best Taiwanese and Chinese cuisine; there are also plenty of night markets serving up scrumptious evening snacks in an environment of chaotic excitement and fun.

On behalf of the organizer, we sincerely wish you a memorable travel experience in Taiwan!

Organized by the Institute of Occupational Medicine and Industrial Hygiene, National Taiwan University College of Public Health, Taipei, Taiwan. In collaboration with International Commission of Occupational Health (ICOH) Scientific Committee on Epidemiology in Occupational Health, Taiwan Environmental and Occupational Medicine Association, Taiwan Occupational Hygiene Association, and Taiwan Occupational Health Nurse Association.
